CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress

The American people have spoken. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, again breaking precedent, has been elected for a fourth term as President of the United States. As President, the American people will be behind him in the prosecution of the war, and in the making of the peace. Undoubtedly Mr. Roosevelt was reelected because the American people were reluctant to change Presidents in the midst of war. Perhaps they also approved his foreign policies. Above all else, however, he owes his reelection to the active support of Sidney Hillman and his Political Action Committees, which in many states superceded the old line Democratic party organizations. While President Roosevelt carried 36 states out of 48, and as this is written has an electoral vote of 432 to 99, his popular vote majority will be the lowest which any President has won since the close contest between Hughes and Wilson in 1912—approximately three million votes. A change of some three hundred thousand votes in close states would have resulted in Dewey's election, rather than Roosevelt's. However, post mortems in politics count for but little.

The Democrats will control both branches of the new 79th Congress, which will convene on January 3rd. While two or three close Senatorial races, and several House contests, will have to wait the counting of soldier ballots for final settlement, it now appears certain the Democrats will have at least 56 members of the Senate, and 241 members of the House, giving the Administration a safe working majority in both legislative bodies.

Ohio will continue to be represented in the United States Senate by two Republicans—Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, who was re-elected last week, and Harold E. Burton of Cleveland, whose term does not expire until the end of the next Congress. On the House side of the Capitol Ohio will have 17 Republicans and 6 Democrats in the 79th Congress; the Republicans having lost three seats as a result of the election.

Congress reconvened Tuesday of this week, with a number of important committee meetings scheduled. However, but little legislative work will be done in either the House or Senate before next week, at which time the House will have before it the Post-War Highway bill, providing Federal aid for the construction of state highways and farm-to-market roads.

There are many rumors floating around Washington as to contemplated changes in President Roosevelt's official family within the next few months. Secretary of State Hull is expected to soon retire. It is reported Madam Perkins, Secretary of Labor, will be replaced, and there is considerable talk Postmaster General Walker will soon resign. Just before the election James Lawrence Fly, Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, and long a subject of Congressional investigations, announced his resignation, effective Nov. 15. There is speculation as to what rewards will be given in the way of patronage, to those in the more radical groups who were so active in the Presidential campaign.

One of the recommendations the President may present to the Congress in January will be the establishment of a new Cabinet position to deal with matters of transportation and communication, and to supervise the various governmental agencies now in charge of these important services.

Xenia Case Before U. Supreme Court

Arguments in connection with the appeal of the Hoover & Allison Co., Xenia, cordage firm, from a tax ruling by William E. Evans, Ohio Tax Commissioner, were presented last week before the U. S. Supreme Court, by Attorney Marcus E. McCallister, of the law firm of Smith, McCallister & Gibney, representing the firm.

The case originated before the state commission and involved the question of taxation upon foreign imports. The case had been before the Ohio Supreme Court.

NELSON MOORE HEADS EGG AUCTION GROUP

Nelson Moore of Beaver Creek Twp. was elected chairman and area representative of the Greene County Co-operative egg marketing committee at a meeting of the county committee Monday evening. Ernest Smith, of Spring Valley Twp. was named secretary of the group. Mr. Moore will represent Greene County on the District Marketing Committee which will meet soon to start planning for the organization of a co-operative egg auction market in the southwestern section of Ohio.

A committee of two poultrymen from each township has been named on the county committee. This committee is now making a survey for future egg production. This information will be used to make pick up routes and give the district committee the quantity of eggs available for the auction.

EGG QUALITY MEETINGS DECEMBER 5 AND 13

The Greene County Egg Auction Committee is sponsoring a series of egg quality meetings early in December for all poultrymen. D. D. Moyer and Alfred Van Wageningen of the poultry department of OSU will lead the discussions.

The meetings are scheduled for December 5 and 13, at Yellow Springs and Xenia. Afternoon meetings will be held at Oster's Hatchery in Yellow Springs and evening meetings at the Court House Assembly Room in Xenia. "What Is Egg Quality" will be discussed December 5, and on the 13th the subject will be "How To Produce Quality Eggs."

DAVIDSON TO ADDRESS FARM FORUM, MONDAY

Howard Davidson, extension specialist in swine production at Ohio State University will be guest speaker at the Farm Forum Monday evening, November 27 at Geyer's Banquet hall. Mr. Davidson will discuss brood sow management, current feeding problems, and the hog outlook. The Silvercreek twp. committee is arranging the program. Committee members are Stanley Hertzler, Chas. Leach, Heber Keach, C. E. Pickering and Myron Fudge. The annual election of officers will be held at this time.

WATER TABLE RECESSES

The water table in Greene County receded 6.01 feet during the three month period of July, August, September according to tabulation of reports made by observers of the Greene County Water Table Survey. These reports are made by farmers throughout the county who measure the water level in their wells every three months.

For the state as a whole the water receded 2.61 feet from July to Oct. 1. As compared with a year previous the state water table on October 1, 1944 was 1.46 feet lower which indicates a subnormal condition.

INCOME TAX ADVISORS SCHOOL

The extension service is cooperating with the Bureau of Internal Revenue in holding one-day "refresher" schools for income tax advisors at Columbus, November 28, and at Cincinnati, December 6. The subject matter presented will deal with changes in the income tax law and their application to the farmer's income tax problem.

FRUIT GROWER'S SCHOOL DECEMBER 4-7

The Ohio Fruit Growers school will be held at Ohio State University on December 4, 5, 6, and 7. Dr. J. R. Magness of the Department of Agriculture and a representative of the soil conservation will be the principal speakers.

TOP DRESS NEW SEEDLINGS

Meadow seedlings took a bad beating from the dry weather and heat this fall, and some were mowed or pastured close during September and October. Since it is too late to reseed this year a top dressing of manure will help these seedlings get through the winter in better condition.

From four to eight tons of manure per acre may be applied as a top dressing. Top dressing wheat, especially on knolls and light colored soils, will be helpful when it comes to the seedlings to be made in the wheat next spring.

ANNUAL CLIFTON SUPPER

The annual Clifton Bible School Supper will be held this Friday evening, November 17 at 5:30 o'clock in the Clifton opera house. Everyone is invited. In the past many from here have attended these dinners.

Farmer Could Not Purchase Pork, So Has Own Porker Killed

We by chance met one of Xenia Township's leading farmers here last Saturday and found he had come to Cedarville to get a hog slaughtered for personal use. He said he had not been able to purchase pork, especially bacon in any of the Xenia meat stores and concluded it was time to eat some of his own. With the country full of hogs and no meat on the city counters, it might be a good thing for the city folks to check up with the farmer and break lines with the New Deal.

The city folks, that vote CIO are not entitled to have pork and of course the New Deal gives them promises in return while lend-lease puts pork on the London markets at the expense of the American income tax payer, who cannot get pork. England sells the pork to dealers there and pockets the money.

The Chas. Sucher Packing plant in Dayton closed months ago because the firm could not make ends meet and do business under New Deal dictation. Xenia is short of beef and pork also and an effort is being made to raise funds to purchase the plant. The investors will no doubt get new experience whether Dayton gets meat or not. The plan reminds us of the days when farmers took it upon themselves to operate elevators, on the theory it was all profit. In those days there was no "New Deal dictation" but the plan never worked only in a few isolated places.

5,000,000 Desert Farms In Ohio

War industry's fat pay envelopes were the magnet which has pulled almost 5,000,000 persons off Ohio farms in the last four years, thus reversing the depression-developed migration from cities to rural areas.

Dr. J. I. Falconer, rural economist at OSU, reported that the U. S. department of agriculture estimates that 6,316,000 have left rural areas of the state since Jan. 1, 1940.

The figures include, he said 4,748,000 now engaged in war work and 1,568,000 called to military service. Rural births exceeded deaths by 1,502,000 during the four-year period, partially offsetting the population decline.

FAIRFIELD ASKS ANNEXATION VOTE BE DECLARED VOID

The Greene County Board of Elections has been presented a petition to declare void the voting last week on the annexation of 29.8 acres of land owned by Joseph Hackett and Mrs. R. R. Leahy, near Fairfield.

The board is asked to impound all votes cast, one for annexation and 16 pending a future hearing. It was said many residents who were entitled to vote on the issue were not allowed the opportunity and that other ballots were cast by some persons not qualified to vote. The tabulation shows 17 votes cast, one for annexation and 16 against.

It is charged ballots were not available until about 1 o'clock p. m. election day and those voting previous to that time could not express themselves on the issue. It is said the ballots were found later at the wrong precinct.

The owners of the land had asked that the land be annexed to Osborn but the Fairfield village council had a petition before the county commissioners asking annexation. That body has taken no action. Some eighty persons were entitled to vote in Bath township.

Fairfield is represented by Miller & Finney, the latter being solicitor. Fairfield lays claim to the land due to the fact that she is surrounded by Osborn village and government land, except the 29.8 acres in question.

New Lake Planned In Madison County

Three Madison county residents have presented deeds to 188 acres of land in Union township to the Ohio conservation division for a state park at a lake.

Thomas F. Wood, London, donated 83 acres; Mayor E. P. Speasmaker, London, 60 acres and Ulrich Bauerle, Union twp gave 43 acres. Conservation Commissioner Dan Waters says construction of a dam and concrete spillway to create a lake covering 107 acres will begin as soon as War Production Board permission can be obtained.

Will Leaves $50,000 For Veterans In Greene County

Greene county will receive $50,000 under the will of Chase Stewart, 87, Springfield attorney and native of Greene county, to provide medical care and hospitalization for war veterans.

The will, admitted to probate in Clark county Probate Court, Saturday, leaves similar amounts to Clark, Hardin and Logan counties. He was born in Yellow Springs and moved to Hardin county and later established his residence in Springfield, where he was dean of the bar when his death occurred October 18.

Out of his $230,000 estate he left individual bequests to relatives, $10,000 to the blind relief fund of Clark county and $500 to Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware.

LOUIS DUNN FALLS AND BREAKS HIS HIP; IN HOSPITAL

Louis Dunn, past 100 years of age, fell a few days ago at his home and broke his right hip. He was taken to a Dayton hospital, Wednesday in a critical condition. He wanted to vote and was hauled to the polls election day where he cast a "straight Republican" ballot on national and state ballots, his usual voting habit.

Democrats Ask For Recount In Xenia

Request for a recount of votes cast in Xenia Precinct 9, Ward 3, in last week's election was filed with the Greene County Board of Elections, Tuesday by a committee of five Democrats headed by V. J. Kronauge, Xenia chairman of the Democratic central committee.

The application was accompanied by a $10 cash deposit to cover the cost of the recount. The Election Board will set a time for the recount.

The official count shows President Roosevelt carried the precinct 199 to 190 but that James G. Stewart won over Frank Lausche 201 to 176. Taft and Pickrel were tied at 182. All the other Republicans won according to the returns from the precinct.

None of the Democratic committee members have stated on what grounds they desire a recount. The entire vote for the highest or lowest office in the precinct would not change the Republican majority for any office in the county. Neither could it affect the state or national tickets.

Republicans familiar with the court house are not concerned about the proposed recount. In as much as the Democratic Chairman has a civil law suit standing against him in Common Pleas Court for $15,000 damages, due to the death of a former Democratic County Commissioner, Mr. Batdorf, Bath twp. in a motor car accident. The suit has been pending for months and court house officials are curious to know why the Democratic Central Committee chairman does not ask for a hearing.

Heavy Fines Levied For Hallowe'en Fun

Fourteen boys around Alpha had a lot of expensive fun Hallowe'en but did not realize it until they faced two Xenia judges, minors before Judge McCallister, and the others before Judge Aultman in Municipal Court.

Beside private property destroyed there was damage to a county road roller amounting to $239.85. Gates and farm equipment along with burned shock corn was part of the fun.

The fourteen boys have until Nov. 18 to pay $25 each for his fun.

In this section there was considerable damage to stones and markers in the Baptist Cemetery. Conviction could mean a fine of $500 for each offense. The time is coming when application of the Xenia treatment will be necessary in this community. The public has long been too tolerant.

The solution to the problem is a fine or damages laid on the parents as has been done by Juvenile Judge Gramm in Springfield.

Official Count Makes No Change On Standing

The official count on Tuesday's election did not change results much for any one candidate, the errors being small. Judge Frank L. Johnson headed the ticket with 10,384 out of 17,617 votes polled. H. J. Fawcett was second with 10,223. Neither had opposition.

The official vote was: Dewey, 9,680, Roosevelt, 7,937. Governor, Stewart, 9,788, Lausche, 7,430. Senator, Taft, 9,426, Pickrel, 7,431.

Congress: Brown, 9,829, Cashion, 6,780. Representative, Fess, 9,575, Hare, 7,192.

Commissioner, Greer, 9,349, Spahr, 9,586, Kendig, 7,619. Two to elect. Sheriff, W. Spahr, 9,511, Henkel, 7,745. Engineer, Crane, 9,455, Walsh, 7,287.

Waste Paper Drive Friday, Nov. 24

Make plans now for the scrap paper drive to be staged by the schools on Friday, Nov. 24th, a holiday following Thanksgiving.

The war effort needs the scrap paper. The schools can use the money received from the sale of it. There is a requirement that it must be met. All paper must be placed in carton boxes or securely tied with heavy twine for easy handling. No loose paper will be picked up and all paper must be at the curb on Friday, Nov. 24th.

Begin now and save your paper. If possible keep magazines and books together. Tie all old newspapers in bundles and keep the scrap paper in carton boxes. Loose paper brings a much lower price than if tied or put in carton boxes.

NOW WE AWAIT THE MILLENNIUM

The election results leave nothing for the Republicans to do but await the "Roosevelt millennium", enjoy the fruits of man made other than the eternal peace as promised to all those who follow him; watch the 60 million on fat salaries, shorter hours and little to do, eat the harvest of the few, produced without compensation for the efforts of members of farm families. The nation is also promised more liquor and that should drown any disappointment the citizenship might face. It might be a new slogan, "More liquor for every home". "Win the war" so far has played a minor role for the administration in devoting more time to world politics and practical political peace than to ultimate victory. A new sidelight on the war has come to light. It was the astute Douglas MacArthur, that blessed his Highness when on the Pacific front, and approved a fourth term, since then the American boys in the swamps have had more support by way of war material than any time since Pearl Harbor and no one realizes it more than the Japs. The post-election days have been enlightening to the public.

Of course we still have the peace problem but we must keep that alive to keep the public mind off reports from the western front and the thousands of youth that are paying the highest price for the "nothing but unconditional surrender". If we read the daily press correctly in numerous instances, there is a strong suspicion that the supposed demand was a "bomber" and little do you hear of it from Washington today. The casualty list speaks for itself.

Naturally everyone is interested in the world peace program. Having been fooled once about fighting the last war to insure more promises and meddling in world politics will not in anyway build up public support for an important cause. As we see it the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin peace movement is but the curtain to entrench themselves and become masters in world politics, a dream that both Hitler and Mussolini have had blast for representation of the smaller nations at the peace table. It does not provide for representatives of any religious group. When the hearts of men have to be softened to wipe out the instant and desire for war, there is but one place that such can be accomplished—and that is by prayer seeking the strength of the Almighty to turn men to the cause of peace. There never has been a peace brought about by the fear of gun and powder and there never will be until men's lives are turned toward that "Peace that passeth with understanding". The League of Nations was a godless thing, selfish in purpose, something that did not have the appeal or the approach toward eternal peace.

The peace program is as nothing compared with what the administration will face on the labor issue. This alone displaces the thought of unity or peace at home. At this moment three members of the War Labor Board have signified that they are to resign soon. There is a reason. The board has stood as a unit on "holding the line" for the "Little Steele Formula" to check the growth of inflationary wages as FDR would say. The CIO demanded before election day the scrapping of the formula to get higher wages but the WLB held firm. Behind the backs of the men on this board it is hinted some one in the White House assured labor leaders a wage increase could not be granted before the election but that it could be opened up after the election. Inflation before the election but no such danger after the election and the word went down the line to vote for Roosevelt and higher wages.

Three days in succession now some branch of the government has issued statements as to the prosperity the farmer has enjoyed and the high prices he receives for all his products. The press reports indicate high farm prices have affected the cost of living of organized workers, but few ever mention the unorganized workers. All this is but paving the way to break the Little Steele Formula and grant the labor organization a higher scale of pay. Several million government employees belong to the CIO and they would get higher wages and probably shorter hours. This would not be inflation but to allow the farmer the cost of his family labor in producing crops for organized labor to consume, and something he must have, is "inflationary" under the Roosevelt yardstick. Higher wages for $12 a day war workers would only call for more war bonds and higher income taxes to pay for war supplies. At least that was the substance of a Roosevelt statement many months back when he was not openly campaigning for a fourth term.

Congress has much to settle before adjournment in December ends. The White House has promised 60 million jobs to all who want big wages and short hours. Then comes the millennium!

Ex-Governor James M. Cox wants the Democratic party in Ohio given a new birth, at least the editorial page of the Dayton News some days ago devoted considerable space to the New Deal Communistic cause, to call attention to a purging of the party backs that did not deliver Ohio to the Roosevelt-Hillman clique.

The News does not think much of the leadership of Al Hortsman, Dayton, who heads the county organization, state and national committee as well. "How 'J. M.' can hold out in the face of the election returns in Montgomery county, when Al's followers almost everything, is a problem Dayton publisher must solve. The candidates won and Al gets the credit, what more do they care?

Hortsman could not knife Bill Pickel because he did not suit the News any more than some other candidate that might have a bald head. Instead of a real crop, which would be more profitable to the barbers.

Dayton politicians, irrespective of party lineup are not done talking about the Cox radio address in the campaign for the Roosevelt-Hillman ticket. One Dayton Democrat, Tuesday, remarked the speech reminded him of the Cox-Roosevelt campaign when Cox had to cross bats with Warren G. Harding. The last campaign outburst was referred to by this Democrat as of the 1920 model in 1944 and did not elude and probably did Roosevelt enough harm to cost him the state.

Gov. Cox has been an advocate of the Woodrow Wilson League of Nations plan for world peace, or was it a piece of the world and who would control it? It is as dead today as the Bryan 16 to 1 slogan back in McKinley days. The Dayton boys in a joking as well as running conversation did hint they were more concerned as to whether "Genial Jim" believed as he talked about New Deal issues among his friends and associates in clubs and business circles or what he had to say over the air in his last or "1920" campaign speech for the fourth term. The Dayton publisher, if he has two views on the same subject, is not different than the once Republican Dayton industrialist who has made so much money on war contracts, he felt duty bound to support Roosevelt for a fourth term even though he knew the New Deal was governed by a set of "quacks". The New Deal cost plus on war contracts has been rich picking for all who have had a chance to profit by it. And do not think a lot of Republicans have been asleep. There motto has been "Get while the getting was good". The deeply conservative little 2x4 Democrat that has no way of cutting in on cost plus under the New Deal, got a chance to continue the "cost plus" system and probably voted for the fourth term and may get to vote for a fifth term. He still has a chance to vote his choice even though he gets no profit for it other than paying income taxes and the corporation taxes that are charged against all that he eats and wears. But why should he get peaved at the fellow that enjoys the benefits of a cost-plus system first inaugurated by the Wilson administration during World War I?

Greene county Republicans should be thankful and grateful to the old line Jeffersonian Democrats that left their party this year, state and national, to vote for Dewey, Bricker and Stewart. It was not a case of leaving the party but taking what they thought was the best for nation and the state.

You may not know it but there were a few Democrats that actually believed Greene county would support the New Deal just because a few hundred immigrant war workers from other states might vote in the county. To all those who thought so came a surprise. Then came the issue as to just who could legally vote and where? The Democratic "disfranchisement" scare was a boomerang for the Republicans for most every other town and township got busy to offset the "100 per cent vote" the Democratic ticket was to receive by voting the immigrants. Not result, not a Democratic candidate received a winning vote for any office. Old head Democrats say if more stress had been put on the state and county tickets, the result could have been different, or at least closer. You do not hear much said about free tickets being offered on the Main st. in Xenia for dinner when the Democratic candidate for governor was being honored at a chicken dinner. The Republicans kept check to keep on the lookout for a landslide in the county. Now we hear some of the Republicans as members of the fraternal order where the dinner was held have been asking important questions. Well, they did not vote for the Democratic candidate anyway.

The western tier of Ohio counties have for years been regarded Democratic territory. The AAA has done a wonderful job in each, made nearly all safely Republican as long as the New Deal breathes. Darker county is a fair example. A few less than 20,000 residents went to the polls last Tuesday. Greenville is the county seat. Both the town and county were supposed to be "rock ribbed" Democratic. The first break politically came shortly after the AAA began to dictate to farmers. A few Republicans broke into county offices. That made the Democrats break at the AAA. Then came an open break between farmers and the AAA and a number of events took place such as raiding the AAA office and burning records.

Recently a number of farmers were drawn into federal court on charges. They were given suspended fines, a lecture and released. All this time the farm sentiment was piling up against the New Deal. Republicans sit back and watched proceedings. Democratic leaders were in hiding knowing the county was being turned against them and at the last election Dewey defeated the one-time Darker county idol, FDR, by a 3,049 majority and James Garfield Stewart, wiped up Lausche by a 2,835 majority. Only one Democratic candidate was elected on the ticket. Rural precincts with farm votes went five and six to one against the New Deal candidates. Democrats point to New Dealers and give them the "I told you so" glance. The only reason the farmers received a lecture was an effort to appease the bad feeling the administration had piled up against the party.

The other Democratic counties in that section went strongly Republican on the AAA issue. Stewart carried 70 counties in the state and yet lost the race for Republican governor. The foreign element in Cuyahoga county piled up about 185,000 majority for Lausche who will not get to divide the sales tax among the populous counties or penalize rural counties because the two branches of the legislature are Republican. Gov. Cox will find his party will need rebuilding. How can he or any other person do it when 70 counties out of 88 refuse to give his candidate for governor a majority vote?

AUSTRIAN-BORN GUEST SPEAKER ON D. A. R. PROGRAM

Technical Sgt. Leon Askin discussed possible peace plans in postwar central Europe at the annual guest-day dinner of the Cedar Cliff Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Friday evening in the United Presbyterian Church.

Special guests were sons of members of the chapter, Lt. John Williamson, graduated recently from Yale U., N. H., son of Mrs. Raymond Williamson and Sgt. Robert Aitkens, from McChord Field, Wash., son of Mrs. Paul Elliott, Sgt. John Bull of this place was the guest of Mrs. David McElroy.

Music was in charge of Mrs. M. J. Bahin, who gave two musical readings and sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. William Lafferty.

T. Sgt. Askin, born in Vienna, Austria, was capable of discussing Central Europe, having traveled the continent extensively, mixing with the people and acting in the theatres. He was a student in political science at the University of Vienna where his father was an instructor of languages. He emphasized that it will be impossible to have a lasting peace unless the little countries are at the peace table, and that higher standards of living must be established to insure peace. He added that it is quite possible for the people of the various central European countries to unite with Russia and our own nation.

Keeping Child Busy Prevents Delinquency

During World War I considerable fear was expressed for the future of the younger generation due to a noted increase in juvenile delinquency. The press is again giving considerable space to the problem as developed from the present war.

Investigations conducted by leading welfare organizations, churches, schools and institutions have advocated a preventive program, rather than a cure.

Their recommendations provide for giving the younger generation every opportunity possible for athletics, manual labor, applied sciences, hobbies, summer camps, summer farm work, social clubs, forum discussions. Included with this is supervised dancing, dramatics, and musical training.

One of the main problems for such a program is the lack of trained leadership, according to the survey. It is stated that due to war conditions it is not always possible to center the child's life in the home, which makes it essential that various agencies undertake to fill the void.

Plans to keep the child engaged in healthy enterprise, without forcing him into projects in which he has no interest, it is said, will go a long way toward forestalling delinquency.

Rice and Fruit Diet Used To Treat Heart and Kidneys

A rice and fruit diet resulted in remarkable cures for high blood pressure and kidney disease by Dr. Walter Kemper of Duke university medical school.

The Kemper diet consisted of rice, sugar, fruit and fruit juices, supplemented by vitamins and iron. Some 2,000 calories were contained in the diet and a daily dose of 700 to 1,000 cc. of fruit juice was given.

In 39 out of 41 patients with enlargement of the heart, the heart became smaller after the rice diet was followed. Of 150 patients, many of them very ill, with acute or chronic kidney disease or with vascular disease, 109 showed beneficial results, and in no case harmful results.

Dr. Kemper pointed out, however, that while the patient is being "regulated" on the diet, he should be in a hospital under careful medical supervision including control of his blood and urine chemistry.

The rice diet was given to 132 high blood pressure patients and 95 of them had a decrease of the average systolic blood pressure.

The best way to observe the defeat of Hitler is to buy an extra War Bond. In thousands upon thousands of American homes today there is pride and a sense of purpose. From these homes come the fighting men who died to bring us this far on the road to decisive victory over all our enemies. It will take more sweat, more tears, more toil, more greater individual effort than we have shown in the past.

HAROLD KLONTZ TAKEN TO HOSPITAL FOLLOWING AUTO-TRUCK CRASH

As the result of a crash between an automobile and a parked truck on Xenia ave., Wednesday night, Harold Klontz, a passenger in the auto, was rushed to the Springfield City Hospital in the McMillan Ambulance with a possible fractured skull.

He was in an unconscious condition when he arrived at the hospital. From reports the street was not wide enough for the parked truck and the automobile driven by Nozzle Laurens. The auto was badly damaged. Laurens escaped injury but fell victim to $100 cash bail on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Laurens will let the village have the money under forfeiture rather than face Mayor Abels.
